Do You Have What It Takes To Welcome the Lord? Be Prepared!

Dearest People of God, we celebrate the Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time (A). The Liturgical readings invite us to be prepared. Though we seek many things in this life, we are encouraged to seek first the Lord and His Wisdom. For by so doing, we will be keeping vigil for the Lord as we await His joyful return in glory. The whole of the Christian life, our response to the love of Christ, our waiting with joyful hope for His coming, is summed up in a single word: Wisdom. He must find us prepared and ever ready for His return.

Jesus in our Gospel today gives us the parable about the ten bridesmaids, the first of whom were foolish and the other five wise. Being excluded from a wedding was a serious tragedy for maidens or bridesmaids in Jesus' time. In those days, there were no "singles groups or sites", and no specific places where one could meet young single men. A wedding was a sure avenue for a maiden to meet someone. Being left out of a wedding diminished the chances of marrying soon. But the deeper meaning of the parable for us is that we can be shut out of the Kingdom of Heaven. Hence, the need for us to be prepared and always ready for the Master's return.

Oil is key in today's parable. Oil is a vital part of human life then and now. It has domestic and religious uses. We use oil in our cars and machines, we use it at home and in cooking. It is medicinal, protects the body, and is used for painting and for lamplight. The Church uses oil in four of the Sacraments: Baptism, Confirmation, Holy Orders, and the Sacrament of the Sick. Oil represents the gifts of the Holy Spirit, the strengthening, healing, and enlightening power of the Holy Spirit. The tragedy of the parable is that, though oil is available – even at midnight one could get some from dealers – five of the bridesmaids ran out of oil. They had beautiful containers, magnificent lamps, but they were empty of oil. This can happen to any Christian. We can run out of oil, the strengthening of God's grace in our life. It is the "oil" of grace that enables us to be in the presence of God, to easily speak with God in prayer, to maintain a sense of our spiritual dignity no matter what people may do to us, and to live our life according to the Gospel rather than be manipulated by popular culture. Our oils can run out through neglect when we do not nourish our spiritual life; when we say lots of prayers but are never "in prayer", nor in communication with the Lord. A crisis often comes and we are not prepared. We may have a beautiful vessel, a great appearance, but we may be running empty. Our spiritual life, our soul is dry. The oil has run out.

The other point of the parable is that there are some things we cannot borrow from others. This is the point of the wise bridesmaids not lending any oil. The foolish maidens knew that the groom could come any time in the night but still did not prepare themselves, ignored the importance of the occasion, and paid the price. Every Christian is filled with oil at Baptism, at Confirmation, at Marriage, Profession, or Ordination. However, we can run out of oil and empty our souls of our spiritual vitality when we do not live each day in the light of Jesus' teachings. Sadly, we cannot borrow someone else's faith, grace, virtues, holiness, goodness, or spirituality. We are responsible before God for our own spiritual condition: what we do with the oils given to us. We blame the world for many things but not the state of our souls. That is up to us. The wise are those who prepare themselves for the coming of the Lord.

The first reading calls on us to seek the Lord and His wisdom. In doing so, we will be keeping vigil for the Lord as we await in joyful hope His return in glory. He must find us prepared and ever ready for His return. Are you prepared for the Master's return? November is a time to think about and pray for the dead – not to be morbid but to be wise and to focus on what is important in our lives. We prepare for eternity by how we live. A reflection from an old retreat, years back, was to imagine ourselves writing our obituary. What would we say were our greatest accomplishments, our greatest loyalties? To whom were we truly faithful? How carefully did we use the gifts given us? Could people rely on us? Were we faithful to our Baptism? Were we a blessing to our Church or a burden? Were we only spiritual consumers or did we contribute in any way to the life and work of the Church? Were we Catholics in our life or in name only? Did we live in the freedom of Christ's grace or were enslaved by the fatal attractions of sin? Surely, there are no holidays or breaks in our spiritual life so we have to be alert always.

As Christians, we believe in the Resurrection of the dead: a hope we have through the Resurrection of Jesus Christ our Lord. The second reading is very consoling in this respect. St Paul offers us hope not to mourn our departed relatives/friends like those who have no hope. As we think of death and dying in this month, we may come to see that each day in our life is a grace, a time to know Jesus Christ more fully. None of us knows when the Lord will come to us. Whenever He comes, we know our lamps will be burning ready like the wise bridesmaids, filled with oil, because it is always filled with oil and burning ready all the time, with the oil of righteousness and good deeds.

November is a time to Remember, Visit, and offer Prayers for our Departed Faithful. It is an occasion to deepen our Faith in the Resurrection. This is the beauty of our Catholic Faith. May the Souls of the Faithful Departed, through the Mercy of God, Rest in Peace. Amen.

Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 2023. Ayekoo! Be a true and proud ambassador of KNUST! We also share the joys of all our school leavers. Take good care of yourselves and lend a helping hand at home. Remember to be wise, vigilant, and prepared for the Coming of the Lord at any time. Do not forget your Bibles and Catechism. Be interested in knowing more about God, His Church, and our Moral Life. Please, let your presence be felt in your parishes; the Church needs you most! May God crown our efforts with success. God bless, protect, and keep us safe. Pax!

Please be reminded to stay well, healthy, and safe. Be not afraid to attend Mass. Remember to observe the safety protocols. Your life is dear to us!

Have a Fruitful and Blessed Week!

God bless and keep you safe.

Our Lady of the Holy Rosary, Pray for Us.
